What else do I need to know?

- The military exception applies only to active duty military members of the U.S. Armed Forces and the Arizona National Guard or Reserves (and their spouses or dependents, if applicable).

- Your state of legal residence is not necessarily your home of record and there are specific requirements are provided on form DD-2058 for individuals who wish to change their state of legal residence. Your state of legal residence is indicated on your Leave and Earnings Statement (LES).

- The Choice Act exception requires you to show demonstrated intent to be an Arizona resident. State law requires that you obtain an Arizona vehicle registration and driver license, immediately if any of the following apply:
  - You are registered to vote in Arizona.
  - You obtain a state license or pay school tuition fees at the same rate as an Arizona resident.
  - You place children in school without paying the tuition rate of a nonresident.

- All documentation is subject to review by the residency office and the evaluator will determine the weight given to each document. The Residency Office will be sole judge of the authenticity or truthfulness of any material or statements submitted and may do additional research regarding any supporting documents.

- Additional documentation may be requested by the residency office after an initial review of your petition by the Residency Office.

- The term “resident for tuition purposes” differs from other definitions of Arizona residency. For example, a person who is an Arizona resident for voting or tax purposes may not be a resident for tuition purposes.

- Students that are classified as residents are required to verify citizenship, lawful status or eligible visa types. Non-U.S. citizens must possess a visa type that does not prohibit them from establishing a permanent home in Arizona. Students on F-1/J-1 visas are not eligible for residency.
